

Mrs. Anna Kiechka of Juniataville was given a hearing yesterday morning before Squire P. M. Buttermore of the West Side on charge of making mischief made by Mrs. Mary Gayick, also of Juniataville. Mrs. Kiechka is charged with circulating false reports about the prosecutor. The foreigners sit in that section are very superstitious and it appears that the defendants accused the prosecutor of possessing the power to bewitch and as a trickstress among the foreigners. Several days ago Michael Gayick husband of the prosecutor was paid a visit to the defendant's home and while there Mrs. Kiechka told him that he should not swear by his wife as she was a trickstress and at one time she led a string around a woman's neck and as the result she was ill for a week. She also stated that at various times the prosecutor would come to her house and with tin cans which she would fill with water from pails of clean water. After hearing the witnesses for both sides the defendant and prosecutor Squire Buttermore dismissed the case and divided the costs. Constable William Roland made the arrest.

PLAN GREAT REUNION

Attempt Being Made to Bring Blue and Gray Vets Together. Minneapolis, Minn., June 4.—Telegrams from leaders of the Grand Army and Confederate veterans all over the country are being received by the Minneapolis Journal in approval of a campaign for a great reunion of the Blue and Gray to be held next year in Washington under the supervision of the secretary of war. Commander-in-Chief H. M. Nevins of the G. A. R. thinks the proposition should first come before the campment at Salt Lake City in August. General Clement A. Evans, commander-in-chief of Confederate veterans, replies: "I have no authority to speak officially. I can say personally that war passions are gone in the south."

On and Off Chat

About Fat.

The society reporter picked up the following gem at Madam Browster's not 24 hours ago. One of her millionaire customers struggling into a new gown asked the famous costumer how she kept her figure in such superb shape. "You habitually eat and drink heartily and even thoughtlessly, not to any riotous degree," she complained. "whereas I live like a hermit. Yet I can't keep slim and, apparently, you can't get fat." "Golly," replied the fashion czar. "I admit I don't fast up nor do I thin down, but it is because I have the power, my dear Mrs. (the name almost slipped out), to any to my fat. Thus far and no farther." I don't exercise her diet nor run any danger of wrinkles or stomach trouble either. Here is the secret." She wrote a few words on a slip of paper and handed it to her questioner. "Get that filed in the drugstore," she concluded. "Take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime and you will never get any fatter than you want to be. You can take off a pound a day with this receipt, if you want to."

FOR AND AGAINST INCORPORATION.

Two Petitions About South Connellsville Presented Court.

THE CLAIMS ARE OPPOSITE

Those Favoring Declare That There Is More Than a Majority, While Those Opposing Declare That South Connellsville Is Not Within Meaning of Act—Other Court News.

UNIONTOWN, June 1.—The petition of a number of citizens of the village of South Connellsville, in Connellsville township, for the incorporation of the village as a borough was presented to the court yesterday and directed to be filed. At the same time another set of citizens of the same place presented exceptions to the granting of the petition, thus presenting a contest.

In the petition for the incorporation it is set forth that, within the boundaries of the contemplated borough there are not over 200 freeholders, a majority of whom petition for incorporation. The territory embraced is 100 acres. All have to do with the petition is made by Smith B. Miller, Jacob P. Weimer, Edmund F. Cobbin and Franklin Pierce, the petition being filed by Attorney L. H. Reppert.

The exceptions to the incorporation stated that the territory embraced is not a town or village within the meaning of the act of assembly, that the territory is mostly farming land and the mountain road and three-fourths of it having no buildings erected thereon, that the land is not of sufficient value to support the cost of a borough government and that the territory is not increasing in population. The affidavit to the exceptions which was filed by Attorney Sterling Hixson & Matthews was made by Col. J. M. Reid.

Sarah P. Smith and Annie Moore, state of David P. Hill a lunatic, yesterday had a petition presented to the court asking for the appointment of W. A. Edmonstone, of Brownsville, as an ancillary committee for their brother. Hill was formerly a resident of Fayette county, but now resides with his sisters in Galeburg, Illinois. Edmund Campbell of this county, had been committed to jail but upon his death March 29, last, it was necessary to place him to care for his estate in this county. Owing to his residence in Galeburg, relatives there had John H. Moreland appointed receiver for Hill's estate in Illinois and the petition now is to have Mr. Edmonstone act in an ancillary capacity to Moreland. The petition was joined in by Mrs. Hill, Chas. and Mrs. Stull. Hill died last both of Brownsville, Pa. The court ordered the petition filed.

When the case of John A. Hebb against the Fifth Coke Drinker Company and others, was called for a hearing yesterday morning before Judge J. Q. V. in Swearing-out the parties to the case asked for a continuance, which was granted. The case will probably not come up until after the June term of court.

Attorney C. A. Rhoads yesterday filed a bill in divorce in behalf of his daughter, now a resident of Uniontown, against John L. Blackford. The couple were married in the Lutheran parsonage in German township October 6, 1887, at which time the defendant was a resident of New Geneva, and the plaintiff of Mount Pleasant. Later the couple lived at Old Forge and in Uniontown. Mrs. Blackford alleges that on August 2, 1906, her husband deserted her and his present whereabouts are unknown.

The civil supervisors of Dunbar township, Messrs. George S. Strickler, Thomas J. Keenan and Jacob, yesterday had Attorney Sterling Hixson & Matthews file objections to the finding of the viewers in upproving a new road in Dunbar township. The principal objection interposed by the supervisors is that the road is intended to replace an old road owned by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, the supervisors holding that it is the duty of the railroad to replace this road at its own expense and not at the expense of the township or county. Besides they say the new road is not necessary and if built would be costly and expensive requiring one from bridge and an amount of money to work.

In the latter of J. J. Weimer against Andy Buschly the court yesterday granted a rule to show cause why judgment should not be opened upon the petition of Buschly presented by Attorney Smith and Brownfield. The court says that he did not pay $177 but that he paid $50 on it and owes the balance in the form of a note which had been signed but he never executed a judgment note and if such exists it was either procured by fraud or misrepresentation and was not signed by him. He says that while promising to extend him some time in his payment of his obligation, which was for a lot at the location of a house, he refused.

Henry R. Intermission was yesterday appointed majority inspector in the Third Ward Uniontown to succeed William Jones who resigned. The petition for the appointment was presented by Attorneys Smith & Brownfield in behalf of a number of citizens of the Third Ward. Jacob Buschly, of Fairbairn, was appointed judge of election in that borough to succeed Arthur Wilson, who removed from the district.

DRUGGISTS GO DRY, TOO

Citizens of Gratot County Will Find It Hard to Liquor Up. It was, Mich., June 4.—Even the druggists in this local option county—Gratot—have gone dry. At a meeting of the County Drugists Association at Anna a formal resolution was adopted binding all the druggists not to sell liquor even on a prescription after the expiration of their present government licenses June 10.

Having "blind pigs" or "bootleggers" this action will absolutely prevent the gratification of a desire for liquor in Gratot county after this month.

HOLD UP STEAMBOAT MEN

Clubs, Razor and Ax Are Weapons Used by the Robbers. Bordentown, N. J., June 1.—Three men boarded the steamboat Springfield, plying between Bordentown and Philadelphia and with clubs, a razor and an ax held up the purser, fireman and two deckhands robbing them of gold watches and jewelry and clothing.

John Doyle, said to be one of the highwaymen, was arrested. Boyle is said to be from Tanawaga, Pa.

TREAT COSTS $100

Heavy Fine For Violation of Colorado Prohibition Regulations. Montrose, Col., June 4.—It cost J. H. Clark $100 to treat a friend to a drink of whiskey here. Extracting a flask from his pocket he presented it to the friend on a street corner and was immediately arrested and fined $100.

This is the first conviction under the prohibition regulations adopted in many Colorado towns.

LOST HER SWEETHEART

Street Car Accident Responsible, Says Miss Ennis, Who Buys Company Indianapolis, Ind., June 4.—In a damage suit against the Indianapolis Traction company it was testified on behalf of Mattie Ennis, complainant, that an accident she suffered broke up her courtship with a young man who had promised to marry her. This and personal injuries were grounds for the charges against the company.

Killed While Coasting

Found Dead Under Auto.

Lafayette, Ind., June 4.—Addison B. Miller, a long furrier and banker of this county, was found beneath his overturned automobile in a ditch near his home. He had been dead some time. It is thought the machine ran into a cow on a narrow road. Mr. Miller's neck was broken.

Japan Has Airship Destroyer.

Victoria, B. C., June 4.—That secret trials of airships and aeroplanes in northern Japan have demonstrated that guns and heavy loads can be carried was the story brought by the steamer Montague. It was said the Japanese have invented an airship destroyer fitted with shells which explode on contact with another airship.

Was Learning to Swim.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 4.—John J. Overly twenty-one years old, of Kansas City, a junior literary student in the University of Michigan, was drowned in the Huron river while learning to swim.

Getting into Practice.

A young law student, the son of a poor man who had stunted himself to educate the boy, was making a study of certain processes of his future profession. He showed an inclination to sit in the house and speculate idly, instead of doing some of the domestic tasks which stood waiting.

"Deduction is an interesting process," declared the youth to his father. "For example, there is a heap of ashes in the yard. That is evidence that the family has recently had fires."

"Well John," interposed his father, "suppose you pursue your studies a little further by going out and stifle, that evidence."

Thanked For Not Stopping. A patronizing young lord was seated opposite the late James MacNeill White at dinner one evening. During a lull in the conversation he adjusted his monocle and leaned forward toward the artist.

"Ah, I know, Mr. Whistler," he drawled, "I passed your house this morning."

"Thank you," said Whistler quietly. "Thank you very much."

Robert E. Umbel, Candidate for Democratic Nomination for Judge.

In his general letter sent out May 21, 1909, he called attention to some MISSTATEMENTS OF FACT that had been made against him and in favor of his opponent and hoped they were due to defective memory, and said:

"If they were unintentional, no more will likely be made along the same or any other line but if they were otherwise you may expect more to be equally fair. Before being unfairly accused, ascertain facts from sources you know to be reliable. BEWARE OF THE USUAL ELEVENTH HOUR CAMPAIGN STORY. All I ask and what I propose and hope for is an honest, honorable campaign."

He regrets to note that other misstatements ABSOLUTELY FALSE have been made and are being given wide circulation against him and in tended to be in favor of his opponent and if his information be correct there are still others to follow. Regarding all of which he repeats and emphasizes the above from his letter. His platform in this contest is STICK TO THE TRUTH DECIDE NOT AND BE NOT DECEIVED by misstatements of any kind in favor of nor against any one.

He is not and never has been pledged or committed to the one term rule. The policy heretofore recognized and practiced by the Democratic party in Fayette county, and recognized and practiced generally throughout the State, to reelect judges will in this instance operate to the advantage of the people of Fayette county. His experience will be of incalculable value in looking after and caring for the public interests.

The people know that he is competent and qualified and that he has always been prompt, earnest, faithful, impartial and fearless in the discharge of his duties and has decided all matters coming before him strictly in accordance with his understanding of the law and the facts.

He has always been an earnest, consistent Democrat and has the confidence of all political parties and there is a strong conviction being freely expressed to the effect that if any Democrat in the county can overcome the large Republican majority and be elected to this important position, he will be a great benefit to the county and the people.

The Democratic party and the workers throughout the county, who have the interest and success of the party at heart, are earnestly for him.

A People's Candidate; What Labor Paper Says.

From the Pittsburgh Labor World

During recent years it has become to the citizens of the county in obvious fact that it is just as important to have able and honest men to administer our laws as it is to have able and honest men to make them. Good laws are never really useful and beneficial to the masses until they are properly administered and this fact should never be lost sight of particularly by those who work in wages. The truth of this has been fully demonstrated time and time again during the last decade.

The foregoing facts bring to mind that in the fourteenth judicial district of Pennsylvania that is Fayette county, there is a contest now being fought for the judgeship of that high and most dignified position Judge Robert E. Umbel is a candidate. He holds the position now and it may at this juncture be remarked that he has made a most remarkable record as a judge.

Formerly, indeed are citizens of the district that they have again an opportunity to vote for and elect a man of the untainted and unquestionable integrity of Judge Umbel and for a jurist whose esteemed knowledge of jurisprudence and whose impartiality and honesty of purpose have become proverbial throughout Western Pennsylvania. While his impulses are toward the poor, and the struggling ne yet never permits the tenderness of his heart to sway the exercise of his understanding. He is and has always been fully prepared to follow the light of evidence regardless of how basely it may grate on his sympathetic nature.

So that from a general standpoint the voters of Fayette county could not possibly have a more qualified man than Judge Umbel as a candidate for the high office he again seeks.

From a standpoint of labor, Judge Umbel has in every sense whatever proved himself to be the kind of a judge that wage earners desire. The truth is he is an ideal judge from a labor point of view. From the latter view point he has become famous and truly because he has given the poor man the wage toiler a square deal. Just as always been all that labor has required and nine times out of ten this has not been secured. He has dealt honestly and fairly with the toilers just as fairly as he has with the employers and the man of wealth. This is the function of an ideal judge and this is just the kind of a judge Robert E. Umbel is.

SPIRITED ATTACK ON LA FOLLETTE.

His Absence Causes An Arrimonious Debate.

SENATE HOLDS NIGHT SESSION

Senator From Wisconsin Is Bitterly Attacked by Senator Penrose, Who Charged That La Follette Too Often Pleads Illness.

Washington, June 4.—The atmosphere of the senate chamber was surcharged with electricity last night when the tariff bill was taken up in the first night session since congress was convened. Every Republican senator who is in the city, except Mr. La Follette, was in his seat, and his absence was made the subject of criticism that involved the sincerity of his attitude on the tariff bill, and finally descended to serious attacks upon him by conservative Republicans in charge of the bill and spirited defenses from insurgents and Democrats.

Growing out of a recess taken in the senate in order to give Mr. La Follette opportunity to recover from the ill effects of over-exertion during his speech and his failure to be on hand last night to resume his remarks, some senators sought to show that he had received unusual consideration.

"Customary tactics," says Penrose. "It has been a part of the customary tactics of the senator from Wisconsin," said Mr. Penrose, "to plead illness in the midst of his speeches, and under that plea to absent himself from the chamber, while in fact it is generally known that he was consulting with the representatives of yellow journals and with editors of uplift magazines."

"I shall be ready at any time to show that on so many occasions this practice has been maintained as to make any man in his right senses absolutely refuse to believe the veracity of any statement regarding the sickness of the senator from Wisconsin."

Senator Beveridge broke in to remark that Penrose had raised an issue of veracity of the senator from Iowa, Duffner.

"I make the statement," said Penrose, "and I make it without fear of contradiction, and make it as a statement which will allow the fullest investigation, whether it applies to this particular night or not."

Senator Borah raised an indignant protest against the language of Penrose and reminded him that it was unworthy of any senator to forget in the senate the code of ethics that prevailed among gentlemen outside.

The day was begun with a speech by Senator Stone of Missouri, in which he asserted that the German officials had taken exception to remarks recently made by Senator Aldrich relative to the wage statement supplied by the German government at the request of the American secretary of state.

Mr. Aldrich resented implication, and Mr. Aldrich had characterized as "impertinent" the effort which he claimed had been made in that statement to influence American tariff legislation and Mr. Stone undertook to show that the statement had been applied to the German government.

Mr. Aldrich resented this implication, but he repeatedly said that the German manufacturers had undertaken to influence the course of the tariff bill and he charged that in so doing they had been guilty of impertinence.

During the course of his remarks Mr. Aldrich intimated that Mr. Stone was acting as a representative of Germany, and this remark aroused the anger of the Missourian.

Declaring his right to speak his mind as an American senator he said that the two of the expression was "gross impertinence."

The colloquy consumed almost three hours of time. Ultimately Mr. Aldrich paid a high compliment to the German people.

WANT PENN'S BODY

Removed From England and Interred In This Country.

Washington, June 4.—To bring the body of the late William Penn, which now reposes in a practically abandoned cemetery in Buckinghamshire, England, to this country and have it interred on the banks of the Delaware river is the object of a movement just launched in congress.

Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania is one of six members of the house behind the plan and he will confer with President Taft to enlist his support to the proposed removal. It is declared that considering Penn's distinguished career his grave is not appropriately marked.

WORKMEN DROP 100 FEET

Have Remarkable Escape After Fall From Manhattan Bridge.

New York, June 4.—Falling 100 feet from a scaffold underneath a span of the new Manhattan bridge, now in course of construction, into the East river, Joseph N. Long and John Manning, two structural iron workers, had a remarkable escape from death.

After rising to the surface the men, although considerably stunned, managed to keep afloat until rescued by their fellow workmen. They were taken to the hospital, where it was said that Long's skull was apparently slightly fractured. Manning, although he suffered considerable shock, will be able to resume work within the next few days.

SHORT SOCIAL WHIRL.

Then Fake Millionaire Is Taken Back to Pen.

Bainbridge, Ga., June 4.—It took Charles Harding, alias A. D. Oliver, just five months to run the social gamut from escaped convict through the roles of promoter, millionaire, evicted bedfellow and back to the penitentiary again.

The climax came when Sheriff Jones of Monroe county, Miss., arrived here and identified Oliver as the Charles Harding who escaped from his custody on Dec. 31 last. Harding, the sheriff said, had eleven years to serve in Mississippi for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Early in January Oliver appeared at Clinton, Ga., and the report was spread that he was worth five million dollars. Oliver posed as a capitalist, bought lumber mills and timber lands and established a bank. At the height of his success he married Miss Rose English and was a social lion and reputed financial genius.

A few days ago he was arrested, charged with swindling the people of Clinton out of many thousands of dollars. His bride fled to her father's home and one of his employees in the bank was threatened with lynching after Oliver had been placed in jail here.

DROP FROM ALPS

Mountain Climbers Meet With Terrible Disaster.

Turin, June 4.—One of the worst accidents in the history of the Alps is reported from the Grand Dent. Four Frenchmen are dead and two Italians will lose their lives as the result of the unsuccessful effort to conquer this inaccessible peak.

Working along a circuitous route a party of nine, all linked together, slowly wended their way toward the clouds. When about two-thirds of the way to the top one of the men in the middle lost his balance and toppled, striking the man immediately below him.

The sudden jar parted the rope which anchored the tourists to the guides, who had braced themselves for the shock. Gaining momentum, the six tourists swept down the mountain-side and all plunged into the valley below, a straight drop of 200 feet.

WELCOME DISCOVERY

Experiments Show That Wood Pulp Refuse Is Valuable.

New York, June 4.—The vigorous campaign waged to stop the pollution of Lake Michigan by the dumping of lumber mill refuse, water, steam and other waste, has resulted in a discovery which will allow the fullest investigation, whether it applies to this particular night or not.

Senator Borah raised an indignant protest against the language of Penrose and reminded him that it was unworthy of any senator to forget in the senate the code of ethics that prevailed among gentlemen outside.

The day was begun with a speech by Senator Stone of Missouri, in which he asserted that the German officials had taken exception to remarks recently made by Senator Aldrich relative to the wage statement supplied by the German government at the request of the American secretary of state.

Mr. Aldrich resented implication, and Mr. Aldrich had characterized as "impertinent" the effort which he claimed had been made in that statement to influence American tariff legislation and Mr. Stone undertook to show that the statement had been applied to the German government.

Mr. Aldrich resented this implication, but he repeatedly said that the German manufacturers had undertaken to influence the course of the tariff bill and he charged that in so doing they had been guilty of impertinence.

During the course of his remarks Mr. Aldrich intimated that Mr. Stone was acting as a representative of Germany, and this remark aroused the anger of the Missourian.

The colloquy consumed almost three hours of time. Ultimately Mr. Aldrich paid a high compliment to the German people.

WHEAT WANTED IN WEST

For the First Time in History the Cereal Is Shipped Back From East.

New York, June 4.—For the first time in history wheat has been shipped back from New York to the west for consumption. Recent inquiries have been received from as far away as Texas for New York red wheat.

Already two boatloads are en route from here to Buffalo, four more are loading and some shipments have been made by rail. This unusual action is made possible by the great scarcity of cash wheat all through the west.

LED BY BLOODHOUNDS

Police Are Taken to Home of Man Who Is Charged With Murder.

Hanilton, O., June 4.—A murder followed by a spectacular arrest occurred at Middletown. The body of an aged umbrella mender was found in a lot. The head had been crushed and the man robbed. He was known to have had $12 on his person.

The Middletown police sent to Dayton for bloodhounds. The dogs then tracked the police direct to the home of Perry McNeal, who was arrested.

DISFIGURES HIS SISTER

Brother Enraged Because She Is About to Be Married.

New Orleans, June 4.—Enraged when told that his twenty-year-old sister Desale was to be married, William B. Blessing, age thirty, attacked the girl in her home with a hatchet, inflicting several serious wounds. He then threw acid in her eyes and mouth. The girl may recover, but will be disfigured for life.

Boston Grifters Sentenced.

Boston, June 4.—Leo F. McCullough, president of the Boston common council last year, was sentenced to serve two years at hard labor in the state prison and Attorney James T. Cassidy was sentenced to serve one year at hard labor, both having been convicted of conspiracy to defraud the city of Boston.

DOCTOR BRINKLEY NOT A SUICIDE.

Evidence Supports Theory That He Was Murdered.

CHICAGO HAS HOTEL MYSTERY

Aged Man, Left Alone For Short Time, Is Found Dead In His Room With Pistol Lying on Bed—Wallet and Watch Are Missing.

Chicago, June 4.—Evidence supporting the theory that Dr. John T. Brinkley of Evanston, Ind., met his death at the Wellington hotel here at the hands of a robber was adduced at the coroner's inquest. The evidence weakened the theory of suicide.

The testimony showed that Dr. Brinkley was eighty-two years old. Save for a left hand crippled by rheumatism his health was good. With other members of his family he came to Chicago and remained in his room while the others went on a shopping tour.

When his daughter, Mrs. George Upchurch, returned with her daughter, Eleanor, they found the shades drawn and the old physician apparently asleep in an easy chair. The floor of light let in by raising the curtains disclosed his blood-stained face. His hat with his right hand nearest to the bed, which was about a foot away. A pistol lay on the bed, with one chamber empty. The bullet, however, had entered his left cheek and lodged in his brain, inflicting a wound from which, it is said, death must have been instantaneous.

The coat and vest were found open and the wallet which he habitually carried in an inside vest pocket was missing, as was his watch. A small sum, $2.11, was found on the dresser in the room.

The coroner's physician, Dr. Joseph Springer, testified that, contrary to current reports, he had found no powder marks surrounding the wound. "From the crippled condition of his left hand I should say he had not fired from that hand, and the position of the wound would indicate that the right hand was not used," said Dr. Springer.

PATIENT IDENTIFIED

Van Osten, After Blow on Head, Knew Nothing of His Fate.

New Haven, Conn., June 4.—Charles Van Osten, the Grace hospital patient whose inability to recall his past or his identity has puzzled the authorities at that institution, it is stated here, has been identified by a photograph and description as having lived with his wife and two children up to 1903 in Hoboken, N. J.

Van Osten was taken to Grace hospital some time ago with his head badly injured, and, although he has recovered to a certain extent, he has been unable to tell anything of his past.

Financial Facts for the People.

Special to The Courier.

NEW YORK, June 4.—With Pitten behind the thing, I don't see how a man could lose out.

This was the remark of a young would-be "Napoleon of Finance" on the bazaar shop scene of operation. On the re-entrance of Pitten into the Chicago pit, he was yielding to a private temptation to "reel $1000 from $100 in grain margins."

Chances 18 to 1.

If this same man were invited to take corporation stock in business where the average amount lost to the gamblers was $22.45, he would yield to any contrary whisper of promoter, or "fiscal agents?" Yet that is exactly the ratio between average losses and gains in grain speculation.

A study of 500 accounts in grain margin speculation by a prominent banker showed that the total loss on losing accounts was $22,000. The total gains on winning accounts was only $42,000 leaving a net deficit of $81,000. Brokerage charges on the total of operations amounted to $128,500. More than double the profit made by the few who made some money.

The average gain made by the few who made anything was $700, while the average loss of the far greater number who "lost out" was $22.45. The average brokerage expense amounted to $225.

Not only were the monetary chances of loss 18 to 1, but the amounts "lost averaged almost exactly three times the average amount gained."

Unattractive Proposition.

"Truly, as a money-making proposition, marginal speculation in grain does not present a ready aspect."

No one but a person in imminent need of a guarantee would think of taking up a line where the business mortality was so terrific.

The tendency of the 500 grain speculators always to do just the wrong thing, indicated an almost complete ignorance of elementary, common-sense principles of business. A large majority of the accounts, for example, showed a tendency to buy at the top and sell at the bottom price, just the reverse of "horse sense" in business.

Some employed "systems," every one of which was a complete failure. The wildest guess work would have resulted as well as the painstaking study of the system gamblers.

Acquaintance with the personnel of the grain gamblers showed unmistakably the influence of suggestion of current news items.

Most of them apparently were highly glibly persons already infected with the "get-rich-quick" microbes. Not being in touch with grain market methods or conditions at the outset, they paid little attention to the upward movement, until just as prices were reaching their climax, they woke up to the fact that some prominent grain gamblers were alleged to be making money. When prices were about to break, the suggestion to "take a flyer" finally took hold and they broke into the market at the top—only to find themselves in a surprise—brief time among the unfortunate—victims of grain gambling.

Losing Every Way.

Gambling in grain is a dangerous proposition—the top notch of financial folly. Even as a "buy" grain is a losing business. The purchaser of listed stocks at least has the advantage of receiving dividends on his stock while "holding for a rise." On the contrary the purchaser of say 10,000 bushels of wheat at $1.00 a bushel, instead of receiving the $400 of $300 dividends he could on the same value in stocks both has to lose interest on his money and pay storage and insurance charges at the rate of $1.20 a year. If grain advanced 12 cents a bushel, he would only come out clear on his transaction, and to make even savings bank interest would have to advance 35 cents a bushel.

No principle of soundness or of investment is left unbroken by the grain grain speculator.

As a business man he knows nothing first hand about the business; no man can make a success of a business he is ignorant of. He is in a field of ruthless destructive competition where nothing is thought of but the wiping out of the most experienced. He is perhaps a thousand miles from the actual field of operations without opportunity to actually see or know anything that is transpiring. His investment is placed not in tangible values, but upon the throw of a loaded dice in the banks of competitors.

As an investor, the grain speculator knows nothing about the safety of principal or of profit—both may be lost in an hour. His capital is subject to sudden and violent fluctuations in market value either way.

The only investment feature in which gamblers are actually converting into cash—and in fact his safety plan is to take instant advantage of stability and get out of grain gambling and into something of the nature of real business.

Insufficient Odds against.

Strength and Service.

Strength cannot be separated from service in judging a bank—

A weak bank may be WILLING to serve you faithfully, but, lacking financial strength, it is not ABLE to do so. In this bank strength and service are combined—its ample capital and surplus enables it to meet every legitimate requirement of its customers.

We cordially invite your business, no matter how small.
